The President's Message

I would like to thank all of our members & friends who came to the March meeting of the Vegas Artists Guild. I hope that you all enjoyed our meeting.

I hope that most of you were able to make it to the 1st Friday this month. I was able to go to Bridge Counseling's "Home is where the heart is" auction at Gaia Flowers. And since Karen Wheeler's "Easter Island" showing at the D'Arte Designs Pop Up Gallery was just a few blocks away from the Gaia Flowers, I was able to make it to her show too. Both shows were great!

The guest speaker for our April meeting was Bill Fravel. Bill gave us a slide presentation of his watercolors, & also gave us a demonstration of some of his watercolor techniques that a lot of us were not familiar with. Bill likes to work his paint right out of the tube without adding any extra water, and without having to size his watercolor paper. With a more opaque watercolor style, he is able to paint nearly vertically, which is not something you would normally see a watercolorist do. His techniques can give you some really nice affects, but he sure does go through a lot of paint! As a watercolorist myself, I think that it would definitely take me a while to get used to his style of painting watercolors. Thank you Bill for a great watercolor presentation.

I'd like to give kudos to Karen Wheeler for the work that she did to create our new 2011 "Vegas Artists Guild Members Portfolio" book. This year's member's portfolio book is hard bound, & features artwork from 30 of our members. If you'd like to purchase the new book, it's only $25. You can see a copy of the book at our next meeting at our meet & greet table when you first walk in, & if you'd like to pre-pay for a copy at the meeting, we will have it for you to pick up at the following month's meeting.

Sam Chinkes, who is our Trustee, was able video record Bill Fravel's Watercolor Demonstration during the meeting, & Maria VanderMolen will be posting a link to Sam's video on our website for your viewing, just as soon as possible.

And at our last board meeting, Sam also mentioned that we had not assigned a "Member at Large" to this year's VAG Board. I was unaware of this position on the board, but the "Member at Large" is an advisor to the President, & would be available for other responsibilities as needed by our Guild. Sam nominated Roberto Rico (last year's President) to be our new "Member at Large", & he was unanimously elected at our meeting. Congratulations Roberto, I'm sure you'll be great at your new position on our board of directors.

I am looking forward to seeing all of our members at our next meeting on May 9th. I hope to see you all then!

VAGuild Meeting

Bold Watercolor and other artistic oxymorons

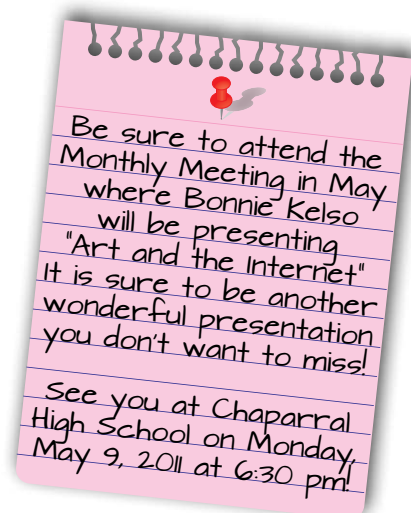

Bill Fravel delighted us with his unique humor and yes, I'll just say it... BOLD watercolor. When many people think of watercolor, they think only of lovely flowing transparent or near-opaque color in only pastoral scenery but Bill is here to dispell many of these old schools of thought regarding his medium of choice.

Using very little water in his watercolor, Fravel admits he uses quite a lot of paint to achieve his bold, bright colors but the paint spent is certainly worth the effort. Applying his color with a brush and then removing part of it with a palette knife is how Fravel achieves his dramatic highlights in his pieces.

The slideshow of his work highlighted the many places he and his wife have lived, the galleries they have had and epitomized his sense of style and humor.

Perhaps most interesting to those in attendance were his pieces he painted of Hawaii while living there.

It was an enjoyable live demonstration and one that those who attended seemed to truly enjoy. Many thanks to Bill for sharing his time, talent and techniques with us.
